Door Straightener, Adjustable - Fully Recessed - 2300mm

Variant code: ADS04230

Door Straightener, Adjustable - Fully Recessed is a premium concealed reinforcement system designed to prevent bowing and warping in both sliding and hinged doors. Unlike traditional semi-recessed straighteners, this innovative design is fully morticed into the door, allowing the adjustment bar to be concealed beneath a cover cap and veneered over for a completely seamless finish. It is the ideal solution for high-end joinery where aesthetics are just as important as structural stability.

Designed for precision adjustment, the straightener can be tensioned from either the top or bottom of the door using an Allen key, allowing easy correction of door movement after installation without removing the door. The aluminium bar can be trimmed by up to 420mm to suit different door heights, providing excellent installation flexibility. As the effectiveness of any door straightener depends on the door material and thickness, a trial application is recommended before production installation.

Ideal for premium cabinetry, wardrobes and architectural joinery, the Sugatsune Fully Recessed Door Straightener maintains perfectly aligned doors while remaining completely hidden from view. The result is outstanding door stability with a flawless, uninterrupted furniture finish.
