

Recessed Adjustable Cabinet Hanger – Each

Variant code: AWH02000

Recessed Adjustable Cabinet Hanger is a heavy-duty concealed cabinet suspension system designed to provide secure wall mounting with precise three-way adjustment while maintaining a clean cabinet interior. Installed within the cabinet side panel, this recessed hanger allows height, depth and lateral adjustment without requiring access holes inside the cabinet. Supplied individually, it is ideal for premium wall-mounted cabinets, wardrobes, office furniture and bespoke joinery where accurate alignment and concealed installation are essential.

Height adjustment is performed from above using a 4mm Allen key, while the specially designed hook automatically provides depth adjustment by maintaining the shortest possible distance between the cabinet and the wall. Lateral adjustment is achieved by repositioning the cabinet during installation, allowing precise alignment with adjacent furniture. The hanger features a built-in anti-release device for added installation safety and offers a load capacity of up to 800N. The final load capacity will depend on the cabinet construction, wall fixing method and supporting hardware.

Manufactured for professional cabinet makers and installers, the Recessed Adjustable Cabinet Hanger delivers a robust, discreet mounting solution that simplifies installation while preserving the appearance of high-quality furniture. Its symmetrical design allows installation on either side of the cabinet for added flexibility.
